Many thanks to this Yearbook crew for all the time they have devoted to the publication of this book. With one common goal, they worked together, developing ideas and new friendships while learning to understand what it means to collaborate and compromise while keeping their eyes on the end goal. The result of their commitment and their diligence is this yearbook. I admire their workmanship as well as the wonderful young adults I have seen them develop into. I am forever grateful for this opportunity to work alongside this staff! Love : Ms H
